

Palace presents...
Art & Office Supply
Because you deserve more...

Please Take Me

Teach Kids Art!

Capitola Store
Saturday, September 24, 2011
9am - 12pm
$30 (includes all materials)
Register early - Space is limited!

“DAY OF THE DEAD” PROJECTS

for classroom teachers and homeschool teachers

Learn about the traditions and meanings surrounding “Dia de los Muertos”, the traditional Mexican holiday which honors loved ones and ancestors who have died. “Dia de los Muertos” is celebrated every year the first two days of November.

Create samples and take home complete lesson plans for four exciting projects, adaptable for grades K-12. Earn a “Certificate of Completion” for Professional Development hours. Be ready to teach your students about “Dia de los Muertos”!

Enjoy traditional Mexican treats while you learn! You can also bring in your own “Day of the Dead” projects to share with other teachers (optional).

Get inspired and connect with other teachers at this FUN workshop - no art experience required!

www.teachkidsart.net

Taught by credentialed Art teacher, Cheryl Trowbridge (above) with Catherine Murray (below), Spanish teacher at Cypress Charter High School.

IMAGES FROM THE 2010 WORKSHOP!

Seating is limited!
Register today!

CAPITOLA

1501-K 41st Avenue

464-2700

MON-FRI 9-8 SAT 9-7

SUN 10-5:30

Teach Kids Art “Day of the Dead” Projects

Saturday, September 24, 9am-noon • $30 FEE (includes all materials)

This workshop is perfect for classroom teachers, home school teachers, or anyone who enjoys doing art with the kids in their life. You'll get lots of helpful tips to guide you as you create your own unique sample for each project. Plus, you'll leave with lesson plans and a certificate of completion for Professional Development. Mark your calendar for this FUN workshop and get ready to be inspired!